FROM THE PRESIDENT…

What are you good at?
Josh Saunders-President

Everybody’s good at something. Sometimes we don’t know what we’re good at until we jump into the middle of things. When I look back over my life…I thought that, well, I was good at raising three daughters. I didn’t know what I was doing all the time so I asked a lot of questions and I made a lot of mistakes, but in the end it was well worth all the struggles. Along the way, there were countless good times and great lasting memories that continue on.

It was an unusual circumstance that I am where I am as president. No one offered to run as president elect. The past president leaned on me until I broke. Then I thought…I may not be as good as some past presidents, but certainly I could give it a try. Well at least that was my thought process. Then the leap of faith hit and I jumped in the middle of it.

And so it is every year. Past presidents move on as well as board members and other officers of the Colorado Section. I urge you to jump in the middle of things. Get involved with your Section. Do what you’re good at! Look for opportunities to serve and get to know others in the Section. If I can do it, with out a doubt, so can you!

2020 Annual Meeting Report

By Julie Elliott, Colorado General Co-Chair

Because February 2020 is still 2 years and 8 months away, I have not been very vocal about the 2020 event. However, Chuck Butterfield (Wyoming General Co-Chair) and I have been busy with preparations! You may recall the boondoggle we had late in 2016 with the Embassy Suites in Loveland. In essence they refused to honor the preliminary agreements that we had made. Without the Embassy, we could not hope to house attendees in Loveland, so we had to move the event to the Sheraton in downtown Denver. We got a tremendous room ($159) and facility use rate ($10,000) from them.

Chuck and I are in conversations with the NWSS facility so we can keep the arena based portion of the meeting. It seems quite probable that we will get it for one day and possibility two (Thursday and Friday of SRM). Those that gathered in October in Loveland had dreams of hosting agency trainings, livestock handling demonstrations, etc. (See below under Committee Leads Needed - NWSS below).

Theme and Image: We would like to make a play on 2020 for the theme. Right now, ‘A New Look – SRM 2020’ is favored for the main theme. ‘Transformation and Translation’ would be a subtheme. The dreams cultivated last October were to completely change the structure and content of the Annual Meetings. It seems appropriate for the theme to reflect that change. We are working with Barbara East, 2010 artist, on a 2020 image.

Kathy Griffie suggested we get sticky note pads made for the meeting. Each page would have the dates, website, the CVB Mountains and Trail Boss on them. Advertisements would be interspersed in the notes. If you have ideas of how we might get some advertising support for these, or would like to help with this endeavor, please let me know. The Denver Convention will not help us this early in the game.

The Range Rider

The Range Rider

2016 Winter Meeting

Written by: Michael Fisher with help from Josh Saunders

The place was the Colorado State Fairgrounds in Pueblo. The date was November 1-3, 2016. It seems like a long time ago now.

It all started as a phone conversation nearly two years prior. The key question, “how can we get agency personnel and ranchers interested in attending the same educational conference?” The answer became “finding common ground.” The Grass-Grazers-Families: Finding Common Ground Conference, to be more specific. It was a three-day training held in Pueblo November 1 – 3, 2016 that was put together by the Colorado Section Society for Range Management and the Pueblo County office for Colorado State University Extension. Additionally, Western SARE provided funding to support the travel costs of several speakers for the program and the Colorado State Fairgrounds provided assistance with facilities.

Audience attendance across the three days was 97, 130, & 81 people, respectively; represented Colorado, California, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, & Wyoming. There was information available for everyone with fourteen speaker presentations in the main hall and five separate demonstrations conducted outdoors.

The conference kicked off with Fred Provenza discussing what it means to know the land and connecting our understanding of livestock & wildlife behavior on rangeland to how humans take care of (or sometimes fail to take care of) their own nutrition and health. Frank Garry visited with the group about the hazards of Johne’s disease in the rangeland cattle herd and Dean Anderson discussed recent advancements in the research around virtual fencing.

Day two began with Paul Meiman, Kevin Jablonski, & Jordan Spaak updating the group about range-land research being conducted by CSU. Nick Trainor talked with the audience about how to build the future of your ranch when you are operating on leased land. The complex relationships in grazing management was featured by Grady Grissom and Steve Oswald followed this up with a discussion on ranching in sync with nature. Then Kit Pharo shared his thought on how to be profitable ranching in today’s economy and environment. Attendees also were able to attend live action demonstrations about both permanent and temporary fencing, pumping water with solar equipment, packing equipment with mules, and utilizing drones on the ranch.

Jeff Tranel opened day three with an engaging discussion about communications on the ranch and leaving a legacy. The audience learned about research being conducted by Hailey Wilmer that looks at the social and ecological outcomes that result from the decisions made by ranchers. Then Duke Phillips visited with the group about how his family looks at business diversification on their working ranch. Finally, Ryan Rhoades (CSU Beef Extension Specialist & Associate Professor in Animal Sciences) wrapped up the conference by looking at the systems approach to ranching and tied in where the various presentations over the three-day conference could fit into the systems approach.

Amongst the data from the conference evaluations, 80.65% of respondents said that as a result of this conference they would change the way they manage or recommend management of resources. In another evaluation question, 89.3% of respondents indicated that by implementing concepts learned at this conference they could become a better steward of resources, making them more successful and sustainable.

COMMITTEE LEADS NEEDED:

Below are a couple committee leader positions that need to be filled:

NWSS – We need someone to take the lead on the NWSS facility activities. The vision is for this to be the site for demonstrations + technical session + expert sessions + public. We want to get range users there: ranchers, open space managers (including things like dog parks), City managers, and Joe Q Public that is environmentally conscious but uniformed as to the ecology of rangelands. The list below is just some of the ideas from the October meeting and brains storming sessions the Program and General Co-Chairs have had.

Possibilities include: Low stress animal handling, Drones, ATV training, Fire training, Large reclamation demonstrations, AIM training, Horse packing, Beef Quality Assurance, Open space management, Public Ask the Expert, Extension training, Producer focus (CCA, CLA, WYSGA, WWGA), Conservation easements – land trusts, Young Rancher/Farmer focus, and a large equipment Trade show.

PR – We need a co-chair of the Public Relations Committee. The good news is that SRM has hired a PR person, Mary Jo Foley-Birrenkott, so the CO/WY chairs would work with her to accomplish the task. Essentially, this person would make sure their subcommittees have promotional materials out in a timely manner, to the right places and the right people and that publicity is in place for the event itself. Sub-committees include Agency buy-in, Media relations, promotional U-tube video, photographer for the event itself, and a backdrop for the awards photos.

I still have the list of volunteers from the survey we sent out early last year, as well as those of you who have contacted me personally. I will be sending the committee chairs their spreadsheets with subcommittee volunteers this summer, along with the list of uncommitted volunteers. If you don’t hear from someone by the Winter Training, please contact me and we’ll find a place for you. There is plenty to do!

Feel free to contact me anytime with comments, complaints, volunteers, or ideas.

Hello CSSRM Members!

I want to thank everyone who voted last summer on the six bylaw amendments. Twenty six people voted at the June meeting, and we mailed 188 ballots after the meeting. Ballots started rolling in to me shortly after that, and board members followed up with emails and phone calls in July with gentle reminders that ‘every vote counts’! A total of 131 ballots were returned.

Those amendments and results of the voting are as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Amendment Description</th>
<th>For</th>
<th>Against</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. To allow CSSRM members to vote by electronic ballot.</td>
<td>126</td>
<td>5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Separating the Secretary/Treasurer positions.</td>
<td>124</td>
<td>7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Allow Directors to serve 2 terms in a row, and up to 4 terms.</td>
<td>117</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. Allow a minimum of 2 on the Nominating &amp; Election Committees.</td>
<td>105</td>
<td>23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. Correct the typos in the current bylaws.</td>
<td>125</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6. Allowing interstate membership.</td>
<td>119</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

As you can clearly see, all six amendments passed by an overwhelming majority! You may also notice a discrepancy of the ballot totals. Three people didn’t notice the ballot was printed on both sides of the paper, so amendments 3-6 weren’t voted on. Fortunately that is the end of paper ballots!

Another issue came to light during this effort: membership data. We were working off the membership list that Allen Press provided which is clearly outdated but that’s not entirely their fault. We came across SRM members who are no longer affiliated with our Section, no longer SRM members, and folks whose home address, email address, and/or phone numbers weren’t valid.

Allen Press doesn’t automatically update your membership/contact information. So if everyone can please get on the SRM website and update their contact information, I would really appreciate it! We want to make sure you don’t miss out on awesome newsletters like this, upcoming meetings, upcoming elections, etc.

To check your membership information, just click on this link: https://srm.allenpress.com/srm/HOME.aspx and go to: My Profile. Under ‘Profile Information’ you’ll see ‘Update Address’ and ‘Update Communication Methods’. Make your changes there and you will be good to go! It’s just that simple!

Thanks again to everyone who helped with this effort: crafting the amendments, printing the ballot, printing the mailing labels, stuffing envelopes, everyone who voted, and those that responded to our pleas to vote. This was truly a group effort of all members and goes to show what makes the CSSRM a great Section!

Ranching with Wildlife Interactions in Western Colorado’s Middle Park

This training will take place on the Blue Valley Ranch located 7 miles south of Kremmling. HSYF News—High School Youth Benefit from Rangeland Management Forum in St. George, UT

By Ben Berlinger, Colorado Section of the Society for Range Management, Youth Activities Chair

The Colorado Section of the Society for Range Management (SRM) was well represented at the 2017 High School Youth Forum (HSYF) held in St. George, UT on February 1-4, 2017. The HSYF is an integral part of the SRM annual meeting. This year there were 23 delegates representing 11 of the SRM Sections. During the Forum, high school youth from all part of the western United States and Canada are invited to participate and interact among the various professionals and college students attending the meeting. Each of SRM’s 21 Sections is allowed to send up to three youth delegates to this program that provides a high quality learning experience.

This year the Colorado Section SRM sponsored three delegates to St. George, UT. Ben Baumgartner of Strasburg, Bree-ann Carwin of Pritchett, and Cody Wilson of Las Animas were selected to participate in the SRM Forum. All three delegates were chosen based on their exceptional achievements in rangeland management programs. Ben was selected based on the high level of achievement at Camp Rocky, Colorado’s natural resources conservation summer camp. Bree-ann & Cody were chosen based on their high individual scores in site judging & plant identification at the Eastern Colorado State FFA rangeland judging contest held in Burlington on October 6, 2016.

The goals of the HSYF are to recognize youth for outstanding accomplishments in rangeland management activities and to provide young people the opportunity to discuss rangelands, career options, and meet with leaders in the field of range management. One requirement of the HSYF is that each delegate must write a paper and then present an illustrated talk on some aspect of rangeland conservation or management.

Ben’s presentation was titled Giants of the High Plains.

Ben talked about how grazing bison combined with a prescribed rotational management strategy is being used on the Plains Conservation Center just outside of the Denver metro-area. The management tool of managed bison grazing is helping to restore the prairie ecosystem through improving the ecological processes affecting rangeland health.

Bree-ann’s presentation was titled Do You Have a “Dog” in this Fight?

She talked about the pros and cons of prairie dogs and their effects on making sound rangeland management decisions. She discussed the biology of the prairie dog and why they are considered a “keystone” ecological species. Bree-ann featured a discussion of how prairie dogs are fitting into the management of the rangeland on her family’s ranch near Pritchett.

Cody’s presentation was titled Controlling the Juniper for Range Management.

In his paper Cody wrote about how one-seed juniper has encroached on to some ecological sites, such as Loamy Plains, where it once was only a minor species. He highlighted the control options for controlling one-seed juniper and the advantages and disadvantages of each.

All three of their papers and power point presentations can be accessed at the CO Section’s website at www.cssrm.org. The Colorado Section SRM congratulates Ben, Bree-ann and Cody for their outstanding achievements in rangeland management and wishes them the best as they further pursue their ambitions in the field of natural resource management. Contact Ben Berlinger (719-469-3895 or ben.berlinger@co.usda.gov), Youth Activities Chairman, for more information about the SRM High School Youth Forum.

“Why be a member of SRM?” you ask. Julie Elliott, our past President of CSSRM, and Roy Roath put together a comprehensive list of values tied to our membership in SRM. Hopefully this prompts our section members to plug into some of these areas they haven’t approached before. It can also be good talking points for our members to discuss with non-members when that question is asked.

As a range professional:

- SRM sets the standards for the profession, both education and conduct, including the requirements for the 0454 series in the Federal system.
- It provides an opportunity to network with other professionals.
  - Who you know plays a critical role in a person’s career path, whether you are laying ground work for upward mobility or to start new someplace else.
- It provides an opportunity to make a contribution to the range profession.
- SRM keeps range in front of legislatures and agency leads.
- Because you have a passion about range - you value rangelands, and SRM is the organization to tie folks with the same value sets together.
- SRM sets the standards for the science of rangelands.
- SRM provides training.
- Membership gives you the opportunity to meet folks that you could not interact with otherwise.

As a rancher:

- SRM is the go-to organization for management information.
- SRM organizes annual tours/field days to highlight outstanding stewardship and to spend time with other ranchers.
  - Gain applied, real life information you can take home and use.
