

Excellence In Range Conservation- Save the Dates!

By Ben Berlinger, Youth Activities Committee Chair & Josh Tashiro, Past President

3R Ranch Field Day

We are planning a field day on the 3R Ranch, the 2019 CSSRM Excellence in Rangeland Conservation award winning ranch. The date has been set for September 10th. Due to COVID the tour was cancelled in 2020 so we want to provide an opportunity to have an “up close and personal” look at this amazing ranch located in the foothills southwest of Pueblo near the town of Beulah.

The 3R Ranch is owned and operated by Reeves and Betsy Brown. During the field day we will discuss how the Holistic Resource Management® model provides the guidelines for the range management philosophy of the Browns; the benefits of their 65 paddocks grazing management program, rangeland/soil health, brush management, and pasture management. We will also discuss the irrigated pasture management improvements they’ve made and see how they are currently improving the health of the soil.

A chuck wagon lunch will be provided along with camping on the ranch for those wanting a night out on the range under the stars! Registration information will be forthcoming so watch for the flyer.

Round River Resource Management Field Day

We are also planning a field day on the Round River Resource Management properties, the 2020 CSSRM Excellence in Rangeland Conservation award winning ranch.

Date coming soon.

Round River Resource Management, LLC is owned and managed by Louis Martin. They manage Brett Gray Ranch and Lyme BX Ranch. During the field day we will discuss the four fundamental ecosystem processes: Mineral Cycle, Energy Flow, Water Cycle and Community Dynamics. We will also discuss many of the exciting practices that Louis and the team are implementing.

Registration information will be forthcoming so watch for the flyer. 🐾
